- 5.1.2 If a player receives a penalty, only the Team Captain can protest to the Water Referee. This will not constitute “refusing to accept any decisions made by the Officials”; thus, it does not merit the award another penalty for breaking Rule 17.3.16. If after receiving an explanation, the player refuses to go to the penalty box, such action may constitute “refusing to accept decisions made by Officials”. The player will go immediately to the penalty area, and let the Team Captain protest the matter to the Chief Referee. After consultation, and the Chief Referee’s announcement of a decision, the team captain will no longer protest the issue, so that the match can be resumed. An appeal can be made following the match if necessary.
